

Activating Study online with Sanako Registration System

Study requires online activation from version 5.30 onwards.

During the installation of Sanako Study Server, you will be prompted for activation details. Follow the steps below to complete the installation

1. Once the server installation begins, you will be prompted for activation details. Click click here to create a Sanako Registration System account

Activation Tool

Please provide activation details

User Name

User Password

Token

 If you don't have an account click here

note: If the registration site doesn't open, you can browse to the address <http://registration.sanako.com/tokens/en-US/Account/Registration> in order to create a Sanako account

2. Provide registration information to the fields provided and click Save

sanako

Registration Choose your language English (United States)

First Name

Last Name

E-mail address

School or institution name

Street address

Postal code

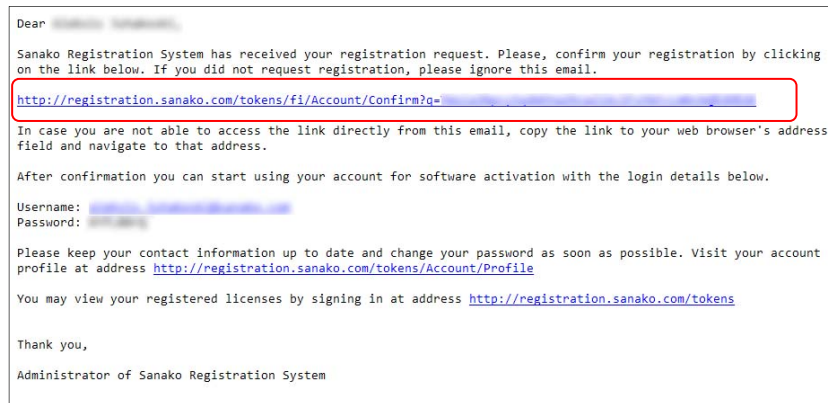

City/State

Country

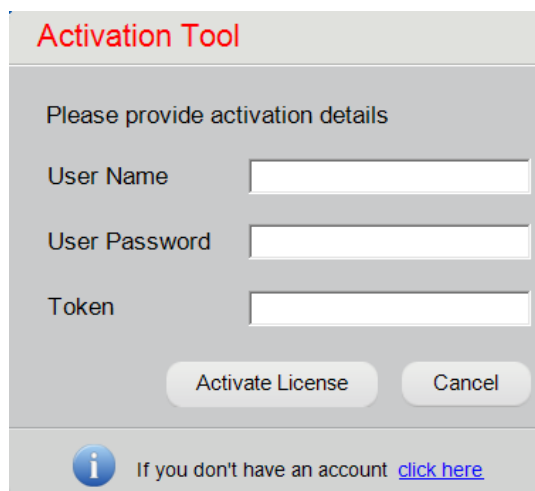

I would like to receive Sanako news and product information to the e-mail address specified above

I would like to be contacted by Sanako representative

3. You will receive your username and password to the E-mail address provided during registration and a link to the login page of Sanako Registration System. Follow the link to the login page to confirm your registration. You do not need to log in at this point.

4. In the Activation Tool window, insert the login information and token to the fields provided and click Activate License

5. You have now successfully activated your software. Store the installation ID for future use.

